Kowabunga! Global Commits to Developing Educational Technology

The agreement will see the development of an immersive and interactive learning environment for young and adult learners in sustainability.

By Shukry Rashid 27 Aug 2022

Kowabunga! Global has signed an agreement on 27 August 2022 with Singapore-based technology firm HelloHolo to develop various Educational Technology applications. The company will use the applications in areas such as virtual and augmented realities and provide an immersive, hands-on and interactive learning environment for young and adult learners in sustainability. NTUC Deputy Secretary-General Desmond Tan witnessed the signing of the agreement at Kowabunga! Global's new office at Woods Square in Woodlands. The High Commissioner of Malaysia Dato' Dr Azfar Mohamad Mustafar also graced the event.
